Kagoro in Mali

The majority of the Kagoro are animists, believing that non-human objects have spirits. They practice ancestor worship, celebrating rites to worship them. The dead are appeased with offerings of millet flour and water. The Kagoro believe their ancestors may take the form of animals or even vegetables! Illiteracy is a major problem. Some Islamic schools have been established, but most villages fail to educate their children because their help is needed to farm.

Ministry Obstacles

Mali is not a hospitable region for Christian workers. Creative means of access from outsiders are needed.

Outreach Ideas

A low literacy rate suggests need for oral communication of the Gospel message. Stories from Scripture, and Gospel recordings and videos, can be very helpful.

Pray for the followers of Christ

There may be a few followers of Christ among the Kagoro community; pray they will be nurtured by the Spirit of Jesus and by one another, so they may become strong in the faith.

Pray for All Kagoro

Pray the Kagoro will be set free from the bondage of worshiping created things. Pray also for improved living conditions, farming methods, medical care and for good teachers to educate their children.

Joshua Project is a Christian ministry gathering data to facilitate and encourage church planting among unreached people groups worldwide.
