

One of over 17,000 Prayer Profiles available at

Joshua Project

Khampa, Eastern in China

The Khampa have a fearsome reputation as the most aggressive of Tibetan peoples. They have a long history of conflict with the Chinese. In 1959, the Khampa in Lhasa organized a revolt against Chinese rule, the last group to resist the Chinese takeover. Catholic work among the Khampa began in the mid-1800s but lapsed when the Catholic mission at Batang Township was demolished in 1873 and again in 1905 after two priests were killed and converts were shot.

The worldview of Buddhism often makes it difficult for its adherents to see their need for forgiveness of sin. Also, Christian workers are not welcome in China.

Outreach Ideas

Much prayer is needed to prepare the hearts of the Khampa to truly comprehend and trust in the good news about Jesus. Innovative missionaries are needed.

Pray for the followers of Christ

Pray the few, scattered Khampa believers will live holy lives, united in Bible truths and consistently displaying the fruit of Christ's Spirit - faithful witnesses to the goodness of Christ among family and friends.

Pray for All Khampa

Pray the Lord will give Khampa families understanding and responsive hearts as they hear about the love of Christ. Pray they will fully abandon their chaotic past, as they come to know the Prince of Peace.

Joshua Project is a Christian ministry gathering data to facilitate and encourage church planting among unreached people groups worldwide.

People	Khampa, Eastern
Country	China
10/40 Window	Yes
Population	1,620,000 in China
Language	Tibetan, Khams
Religion	Buddhism
Bible	New Testament
Christ-followers	Few, less than 2%
Status	Unreached
Progress

Get involved by visiting: www.joshuaproject.net

One of over 17,000 Prayer Profiles available at

Joshua Project

Khampa, Eastern in China

The Khampa have a fearsome reputation as the most aggressive of Tibetan peoples. They have a long history of conflict with the Chinese. In 1959, the Khampa in Lhasa organized a revolt against Chinese rule, the last group to resist the Chinese takeover. Catholic work among the Khampa began in the mid-1800s but lapsed when the Catholic mission at Batang Township was demolished in 1873 and again in 1905 after two priests were killed and converts were shot.

The worldview of Buddhism often makes it difficult for its adherents to see their need for forgiveness of sin. Also, Christian workers are not welcome in China.

Outreach Ideas

Much prayer is needed to prepare the hearts of the Khampa to truly comprehend and trust in the good news about Jesus. Innovative missionaries are needed.

Pray for the followers of Christ

Pray the few, scattered Khampa believers will live holy lives, united in Bible truths and consistently displaying the fruit of Christ's Spirit - faithful witnesses to the goodness of Christ among family and friends.

Pray for All Khampa

Pray the Lord will give Khampa families understanding and responsive hearts as they hear about the love of Christ. Pray they will fully abandon their chaotic past, as they come to know the Prince of Peace.

Joshua Project is a Christian ministry gathering data to facilitate and encourage church planting among unreached people groups worldwide.

People	Khampa, Eastern
Country	China
10/40 Window	Yes
Population	1,620,000 in China
Language	Tibetan, Khams
Religion	Buddhism
Bible	New Testament
Christ-followers	Few, less than 2%
Status	Unreached
Progress

Get involved by visiting: www.joshuaproject.net