THE GREAT PROGRESS OF THE GOSPEL

*How God is fulfilling
His promise to bless
all the families of the earth*

Printed and PDF copies of the Great Progress booklet are available at Go31.org

Building Collaboration to Reach Frontier People Groups

This generation has an opportunity for “greater works”—building on the faithful work of previous generations. The past 50 years have seen an acceleration toward the fulfillment of God’s unchanging purpose to bless all families and people groups on earth (Gen 12:3, 18:18, 22:18; Heb 6:17; Gal 3:8; Mt 28:19-20, etc.).

This booklet aims to equip influencers like you to help others see the big picture of God’s unchanging purpose (Heb 6:17), and the good works He prepared in advance for God’s people to walk in (Eph 2:10) to fulfill His covenant promise to bless all the families of earth (Gen 22:18), justifying all people groups by faith (Gal 3:8), through Acts-like discipling movements in every people group (Mt 28:19-20).

God’s kingdom has advanced more in the past 50 years—in the number and population of people groups with multiplying households of believers—than in the previous 20 centuries (since Pentecost). This booklet shows the big picture of God’s unchanging purpose, the astonishing progress of the past 50 years, and what remains for our generation to finally start movements to Jesus among the remaining Frontier People Groups containing 25% of humanity.

In 1974 the Lausanne movement reminded the global church of the biblical focus on people groups, and revealed that 60% of humanity lived in overlooked people groups. The global Perspectives movement (also launched in 1974) has sown this focus on overlooked people groups into ever-widening circles. And this awareness has fueled a revolution of prayer and collaboration to send pioneer workers.

In this booklet we present the current situation and opportunity in clear terms supported by graphs and charts. These are open source, freely available for re-use with attribution to “JoshuaProject.net/GreatProgress”.

The Great Progress of the Gospel

Four thousand years ago, God made a covenant with Abraham, saying “through your offspring all nations (families) on earth will be blessed” (Gen 22:18). God was promising that all people groups would be made right with Him by faith (Gal. 3:8).

Jesus commanded His followers to disciple all people groups (Matt. 28:19). Thus movements to Jesus spread into a growing number of non-Jewish people groups through witnesses like Paul, who said: “It has always been my ambition to preach the gospel where Christ has not been named, not building on another’s foundation” (Rom 15:20). In each generation, God calls some, like Paul, to such pioneer work.

In 1792 William Carey worked out that the gospel had spread through cross-cultural witnesses to places containing 25% of the world’s population. He triggered an explosion of Protestant missions by urging the formation of mission agencies to reach distant lands. In 1974 Ralph Winter figured that 40% of the world lived in people groups with their own movements to Jesus. He challenged the global church to adopt the remaining unreached peoples. Today in 2024, just 50 years later, the gospel has taken root in people groups containing 75% of the world’s population.

50 Unbelievable Years

The greatest gospel advance in history came by focusing on God’s promise to bless all the families of the earth (Gal. 3:8). At the first Lausanne Congress, in 1974, approximately 60% of humanity lived in roughly 17,000 people groups with no known church movements. By 2024 these people groups, now called Frontier People Groups (FPGs), had decreased to 5,000, containing just 25% of humanity. While the global population doubled in 50 years, the number of languages and people groups did not. During this time, the followers of Jesus increased five-fold, while the global population living in FPGs decreased from 60% to 25%.

Where Would Paul Go Today?

Paul wanted to fulfill God's covenant by going to people groups where Jesus was not yet known. But today 96% of international Christian workers go to "reached people groups," where nearly all of the world's believers live. Only 4% go to Unreached People Groups (UPGs), who still need outside assistance to reach their own people group. Some UPGs have small movements to Jesus that outside workers can partner with, but other UPGs need pioneer workers to win the first households to Jesus. These Frontier People Groups, needing pioneer workers, contain one fourth of the world (2 billion people) yet receive just 1% of workers.

Location of International Workers Relative to World Population

Cross-cultural Workers Received: India vs. Africa or Latin America

India's population (1.4 billion) is nearly equal to Africa (1.5 billion), and more than double the population of Latin America (0.67 billion). India has half of the remaining FPGs, but receives 1/10th the cross-cultural workers sent to Africa or Latin America.

Fulfilling God’s Promise: Today’s Great Opportunity

Over the last 50 years, new movements to Jesus have developed mostly in Buddhist or atheist people groups in Asia, or tribal groups with ethnic religions. These people groups with movements to Jesus are still considered “unreached” until at least 2 out of every 100 people (2%) are Evangelicals.¹

All Unreached People Groups need more Christian workers. But Frontier People Groups (FPGs), those UPGs with no known movements, still need cross-cultural pioneer workers trained to disciple the first households to follow Jesus together.

Where is the greatest need today? About 70% of the global population of Frontier People Groups (1.4 billion) live in South Asia. Half are in India alone (1 billion). Of the global FPG population, 97% are either Muslim (56%) or Hindu (41%). Significantly, 80% of the population of all FPGs (1.6 billion) live in just under 300 mega-FPGs, each containing over one million people. Due to their size and influence, these groups are especially strategic. These mega-FPGs are shown below by their geographic location and religions—almost all are Muslims and Hindus. (The world’s agnostics and atheists do not appear here because they mostly live in reached people groups, where there are many Christians.)

¹ UPGs are defined by Joshua Project as “less than or equal to 2% Evangelical Christian and less than or equal to 5% Christian adherents.”

Key Languages of Unreached People Groups

What languages can new workers learn for greatest access to Frontier People Groups and other Unreached People Groups? Seven of the top ten languages spoken by FPGs and other UPGs are South Asian languages. Furthermore, Hindi and Urdu are so similar that learning either language equips the learner to work among the 700 million people who speak one of those languages.

The 300 mega-FPGs are distributed among just 40 of the world's 200 countries. More than half of these Mega-FPGs are in India. Pakistan runs a distant second, with 41 mega-FPGs. Other countries with Mega-FPGs each have eight or less. This tells us where more pioneer workers are most needed.

Prioritizing the Mega-Frontier People Groups

Rapid progress can be made toward fulfilling God’s promise to bless all the families of the world by starting movements to Jesus in 300 mega-FPGs (each over one million in size)—1.6 billion people, 80% of the total population of all FPGs. Within this 1.6 billion, almost a billion live in the 37 largest FPGs (over 10 million in size, up to 135 million).² A prayer guide for The Thirty-One Largest Frontier People Groups is available at Go31.org and BlessFrontierPeoples.org.

Movements with Potential to Spread to Frontier People Groups

The 24:14 Coalition reports that there are now thousands of movements to Jesus (sometimes called Church-Planting Movements or CPMs) with potential to spill over into Frontier People Groups that speak the same language.

Movements Can Spread Through People Group Clusters

The mega-Frontier People Groups have tremendous influence. The Rajput people groups are a good example of FPG clusters, where movements started in larger groups can lead to movements in smaller related groups. As seen in Figure 12, there are 218 Rajput FPGs—some Muslim and some Hindu. Of these, one is over 10 million in population and 10 more are over 1 million in size (largest circles). Once movements begin in the largest Rajput groups, they can send believers to the 207 smaller Rajput FPGs of the same religion.

Dozens of similar clusters exist, like the Brahmin, Jat, Malay, Yadav, Dhobi, and Pashtun. The Brahmin, for example, have 1 group over 10 million, 9 others over 1 million, and 121 smaller groups, 2 in diaspora (all Hindu). Such clusters reveal why sending additional believing families to work cross-culturally among these 300 mega-FPGs is a priority for the global church.

Defining Movements

A people group is considered to have an indigenous “movement to Jesus” when believers within that group are rapidly winning families to the Lord. When there is a movement, groups of disciples are multiplying from household to household and the number of believers is growing faster than the overall population.

Movements to Jesus flow mostly through same-culture witness within a people group. Movements cultivated among the 300 mega-FPGs can hopefully flow over into many related smaller FPGs and UUPGs.

Bringing God's Blessing to UPGs in Mega-Cities

Today's mega-cities draw people from rural homelands or other countries. Most diaspora immigrants in the West come from reached people groups. However, the 110 cities below include people from many Unreached People Groups, including Unengaged and Frontier People Groups. These immigrants are often isolated in ethnic neighborhoods with their own networks. Urban churches in these cities have the opportunity to start family-based movements in the languages and communities of these UPGs by praying for them and pursuing movement training.

Encouraging Movements in Urban Ethnic Communities

In mega-cities it is common to gather believers together from Christian people groups into multi-ethnic churches using English or trade languages. The gospel rarely reaches the families of UPGs and FPGs, such as Muslims and Hindus.

Most cities are filled with distinct communities of family and friendship circles. Traditional church planting seeks to attract people from their existing communities into a church as a new social circle.

The significant language and cultural barriers of UPG communities means few will be comfortable joining a multi-ethnic church. If they do, their communities often reject them rather than embrace Jesus.

However entire UPG communities can be engaged when the gospel is introduced into families and pre-existing communities, in home-based discipling movements.

Progress of the Gospel in Mega-Cities

The 18 largest cities from the map shown in Figure 13 have very different levels of gospel progress. In some mega-cities, most of the native people groups are already reached (having more than 2% Evangelicals). Believers there can reach out to families in Unreached People Groups.

However, in countries like India, Pakistan and Bangladesh, the mega-cities are full of people from Frontier People Groups. Other cities, like Tokyo and Bangkok, have a large native UPG population, with some indigenous communities of believers to partner with, but also immigrant groups that are FPGs. These cities need many international witnesses.

Global Prayer Movements for UPGs and FPGs

God is raising up global prayer movements for Unreached People Groups, especially Frontier People Groups, including prayer for the 110 cities (Figure 13). The 300 Mega-FPGs are also being adopted for prayer. A prayer guide for 31 Mega-FPGs over 10 million in size can be downloaded at Go31.org and with a phone app from BlessFrontierPeoples.org (See appendix for links to global prayer initiatives).

In answer to these prayer initiatives, movements are growing among UPGs and beginning to impact some FPGs that are culturally and linguistically nearby. Once an indigenous self-propagating movement has emerged within a FPG, with at least 1 out of 1,000 identifying with Christ, that UPG can be removed from the FPG list!

Introducing Jesus to Those With Layered Identities

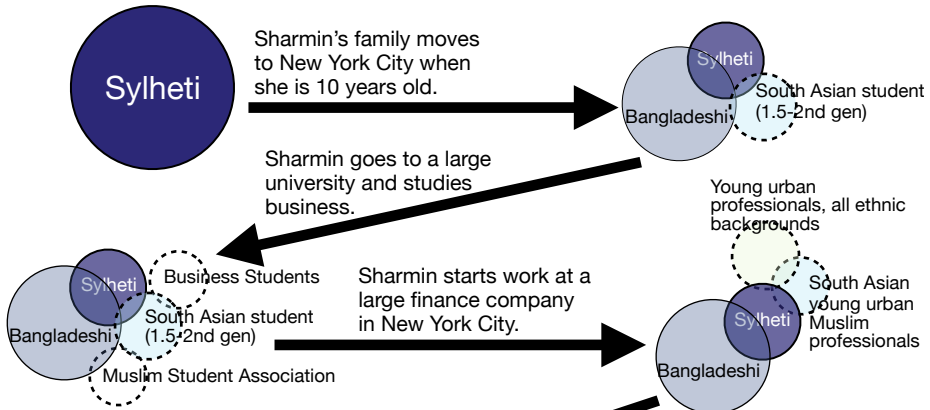

Less than 3% of the population of Frontier People Groups live in diaspora locations (outside their homeland). UPGs living in diaspora often have hybrid or layered identities and are part of multiple social groups. Sharing Jesus with diaspora individuals through their affinity groups has broader impact when those individuals and their households are disciplined to follow Jesus in their core or family identity.

A Journey into Layered Identities

Sharmin joins a Multiethnic Fellowship

Working in New York City, Sharmin is disciplined in English within an American worldview. Her Sylheti family and friends back home still think she is a Muslim. She is not sure how to share her love of Jesus with them or connect it to her other identities. Marriage is a looming problem.

Sharmin's faith reaches her family

Sharmin's NYC friends encourage her to bless her family and share her faith journey with them. She finds an online Sylheti community of believers. They help her discuss her faith and study the Bible in her heart language and integrate a Biblical worldview into her core identities. Some of Sharmin's family and friends also decide to follow Jesus, and an indigenous movement can start.

Contrasting Gospel Progress in Different Regions

In some regions, indigenous movements to Jesus have moved many people groups out of the “frontier” category. These remain UPGs until at least 2% of their people group follow Jesus. Other areas of the world show less progress.

For example, 55% of Indonesian UPGs no longer need specialized cross-cultural pioneer workers to win the first households to Jesus. These UPGs have some believing communities that international workers partner with to reach their own people. In the sub-Sahara Sahel region, 50% of the UPGs are no longer FPGs.

However, in South Asia, not many Frontier People Groups show progress toward indigenous movements. Only 15% of South Asian UPGs are no longer FPGs, leaving 85% of South Asian unreached people groups still needing pioneer workers to spark the first movement to Jesus (so these UPGs are still FPGs).

The contrast by population is even greater, with 85% of the population of Indonesian UPGs having some indigenous movements in their own people group and 75% of the people in Sahel UPGs having known movements. In South Asia, however, only 20% of the population in the UPGs have known movements to Jesus, leaving 80% in the Frontier People Groups sub-category.

- Indonesia: 55% of UPGs no longer need pioneer workers (85% by population).
- The Sahel (sub-Sahara): 50% of UPGs are no longer FPGs (75% by population).
- South Asia: Only 15% of UPGs are no longer FPGs (20% by population).

The Surprising Challenge of India

Forty percent more people live in India (1.4 billion) than in North America (0.4 bn) and South America (0.6 bn) combined—nearly as many as in all of Africa (1.5 bn). The Ethnologue lists 4,000 languages in India, using multiple alphabets.

To date, known movements in India have spread mostly among the tribes and lowest classes, leaving thousands of Frontier People Groups still isolated from the gospel.

- India has more people in Frontier People Groups than all other countries combined!
- India and Pakistan together have more FPGs than all other countries combined.
- India has 400 times as many people living in Frontier People Groups as the USA.

YET:

- India receives only one-fourth as many international workers as the USA receives.
- Only 1 in 5,000 (0.02%) of all international workers serves among India's FPGs.
- Outside India there is 1 international worker for every 10,000 people in Frontier People Groups. Within India there is only 1 international worker for every 250,000 people in FPGs.

Why India Has So Little Progress

India has a lower percentage of Christians than almost any other country of the world, in spite of nearly 2000 years of some Christian outreach. The barriers to the spread of the gospel in India are unique.

In most of the world, people groups are concentrated by geography—with everyone in a tribe or village sharing a common identity and interacting in ways that facilitate the spread of the gospel. But in India people groups or castes (except in the tribal areas) were traditionally defined rigidly by profession, and therefore are spread throughout the country and layered in villages. The castes continue to maintain distinct identities even with changing professions. Strong prejudices hinder social interactions and spread of the gospel, even within the same village.

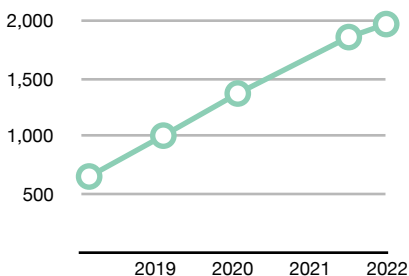

India has more Muslims than the Middle East (200 million). Even India's Muslim people groups are categorized into castes based on their traditional professions. Over 40% of the Frontier People Groups are Hindus—virtually all of them in India.

The Good News: Movements are Multiplying, Even in India

Some movements to Jesus are now spreading through villages of India among the Dalit (outcaste) people groups, which are unfortunately considered ritually “unclean” or “untouchable” by the caste Hindus. If only 10% of each village is Dalit, then the other 90% of each village (in households of upper castes or “Other Backward Castes”/OBCs) often conclude that following Jesus is not possible for their people group. Because Jesus becomes a “god” associated with the “outcaste” groups, the higher castes become even more resistant to the gospel.

Nevertheless, there are some movements developing within higher castes as well. In fact, movements of households coming to Jesus, as seen in the book of Acts, seem to be increasingly multiplying around the world, even in some areas with fierce opposition. Most of these movements seem to be fueled by a paradigm of church that revolves around frequent discussion of and obedience to God's word within households (similar to Acts 19:9-10). Reportedly, many movements to Jesus are doubling every three to five years, growing much faster than the population. An estimated 2% of the world is now involved in movements to Jesus.

Blessing All Peoples: God's 4,000-Year Old Promise

God wanted to make the unchanging nature of His purpose very clear to the heirs of what was promised, so He confirmed it with an oath (Heb 6:17).

The Promise

God promised Abraham twice (Gen 12:3, 18:18) that all the family-lines of earth would be blessed through Abraham's seed, Jesus. God then confirmed this promise with the oath referenced above: "I swear by myself," declares the LORD, "... through your offspring all ethne³ (people groups) on earth will be blessed..." (Gen 22:16–18).

The Old Testament repeatedly refers back to this promise: all ethne will be blessed through him, and they will call him blessed (Ps 72:17)... the ethne will invoke blessings by Him and in Him they will boast (Jer 4:2).

Peter sees the Spirit's empowering at Pentecost as fulfillment of this promise: And you are heirs... of the covenant God made with your fathers... "Through your offspring all ethne on earth will be blessed" (Acts 3:25).

Paul identifies this promise of God as the gospel itself! Scripture foresaw that God would justify the Gentiles by faith, and announced the gospel in advance to Abraham: "All ethne will be blessed through you" (Gal 3:8). I do not want you to be ignorant of this mystery... Israel has experienced a hardening in part until the full number of the ethne has come in (Rom 11:25). Paul applies this: It has always been my ambition to preach the gospel where Christ was not known, so that I would not be building on someone else's foundation (Rom 15:20).

Jesus relates His mission, and even His daily presence with us, to this purpose: All authority... has been given to Me. Therefore go and disciple all ethne... And surely I am with you always, to the very end of the age (Mt 28:18-20)... And this gospel of the kingdom will be preached in the whole world as a testimony to all ethne, and then the end will come (Mt 24:14).

Finally John foretells the fulfillment: with Your blood You purchased for God persons from every tribe, language, people and ethne (Rev 5:9)... a great multitude... from every ethne, tribe, people and language, standing before the throne and before the Lamb... (Rev 7:9)... All ethne will come and worship before You... (Rev 15:4). On each side of the river stood the tree of life... And the leaves of the tree are for the healing of the ethne. (Rev 22:2).

³ The word "nations" in the New Testament is mostly the Greek ethne—people groups that resist outside influences and maintain their distinct lineage through intermarriage and shared customs. The Septuagint (LXX)—the earliest Greek translation of the Old Testament—uses this same word ethne 700 times, including this promise in Genesis.

Conclusion

Because the percentage of the world's population that is Christian has remained around 33% for the last century (see graph below), most people miss the fact that the gospel has been spreading into new people groups at an exponential rate. Progress is accelerating rapidly toward the fulfillment of God's promise to bless all the families of the earth, justifying all by faith in the Lord Jesus. In the last 50 years, a new awareness of God's concern for all people groups has dropped the percentage of the world's population still needing pioneer work from 60% to 25%.

- Today God is sending workers to least-reached people groups from many countries that were considered mission fields just 50 years ago.
- Global prayer networks have arisen for UPGs (including FPGs).
- Ministries and whole denominations are collaborating more fruitfully.
- Movements are already present within some people groups that are geographically, culturally and linguistically near to Frontier People Groups.
- God has entrusted His body with many new technologies, including real-time translation, instant communication, rapid travel, and online communities.

Starting movements to Jesus in the 37 largest Frontier People Groups (greater than 10 million in size) would impact almost 1 billion people! This number increases to 1.6 billion (80% of people in FPGs) when movements to Jesus spread to the rest of the 300 mega-FPGs (greater than 1 million in size). Through the global church, God is fulfilling His promise to bless all the families of the earth!

50 Unbelievable Years: 1974-2024

In 1974, indigenous churches and movements to Jesus existed in people groups with a total population of 1.6 billion people. That left 2.4 billion (60% of the world) lacking indigenous fellowships in their own people group, so those people groups still needed pioneer workers.

At the first Lausanne Congress, Ralph Winter awakened believers to the need for pioneer workers among these overlooked people groups.

Today the gospel has incredibly taken root among people groups with a total population of 6 billion people. Believers have multiplied 5-fold since 1974, and the percent of the world needing pioneer workers has been cut by more than half—from 60% to 25% (2 billion, see figure xx).

Classifying People Groups¹

Where has the gospel has already spread?

Where hasn't the gospel spread yet?

Where are more workers needed?

For such questions it helps to consider the world in categories of people groups:

Reached People Groups (60% of the world, 4.6 billion people) include:

- Followers of Jesus (with a living faith): 1 billion (13% of the world)
- Cultural/nominal Christians (needing renewal): 1.6bn (20%)
- Non-believers in these same groups (needing witness): 2.4bn (27%)

Influenced by the gospel, the “barrier between peoples” has been reduced (Eph 2:14), and these reached peoples interact more freely with other peoples.

Unreached People Groups (40% of the world, 3.4 billion people) include:

- UPGs with progress, but needing workers: 1.4 billion (15% of the world)
- Frontier People Groups with no progress: 2 billion (25% of the world)
- UUPGs (a small subset of FPGs with no known workers)

Unreached people groups retain a strong sense of shared identity, and often resist outside influences or marriage outside their people.

Distribution of Unreached and Frontier Peoples

UPGs and FPGs are not evenly distributed. In fact, 70% of the total FPG population (i.e. 1.4 billion) live in South Asia—India, Pakistan, Bangladesh, Bhutan, Nepal, Sri Lanka and other island nations. Furthermore, half the overall population of Frontier People Groups (1 billion) lives in India alone. While great progress has been made among Buddhists and tribals, 97% of the total FPG population remains in two religious groups: Muslims (56%) and Hindus (41%).

Distribution/Size of All Frontier People Groups by Religion

Which People Groups Most Need Pioneer Workers

Many Unreached People Groups remain, even though the population of “reached” people groups has nearly tripled since 1974! These remaining UPGs can be separated into those with a movement to Jesus, and those Frontier People Groups still with no known indigenous movements to Jesus.

Most of the progress of the last 50 years occurred through movements in China and other parts of Asia among Buddhists, and in tribal groups in Oceania and Latin America. Many of these are still UPGs—having not yet passed the 2% threshold.² However, those UPGs that have local believers and a movement to Jesus no longer need pioneer workers, as foreign workers can partner with these local believers and disciple them to pursue movements.

Where Frontier People Groups Are and What They Believe

FPGs are not evenly distributed around the world. In fact, 70% of the total FPG population (i.e. 1.4 billion) live in South Asia—India, Pakistan, Bangladesh, Bhutan, Nepal, Sri Lanka and other island nations. Furthermore, half the overall population of Frontier People Groups (1 billion) lives in India alone. While great progress has been made among Buddhists and tribals, 97% of the total FPG population remains in two religious groups: Muslims (56%) and Hindus (41%).

² UPGs are defined by Joshua Project as “less than or equal to 2% Evangelical Christian and less than or equal to 5% Professing Christians.”

Global Distribution of Workers and Funding

If the global allocation of workers and funding reveal the Church's true priorities, we must question whether our priorities are aligned with those of Jesus. Only 1% of workers are focused on pioneer work among the remaining 25% of the world in Frontier People Groups. And more money is embezzled from Christian causes each year than is directed to all global mission work, of which only a small fraction goes to pioneer mission work.

Good News: Movements Are Multiplying, Even in India

The book of Acts is becoming a global experience, with household churches multiplying rapidly even amidst fierce opposition. Frequent discussion of and obedience to God's word (similar to Acts 19:9-10) is fueling movements to Jesus in every region of the world. Many movements to Jesus are reportedly doubling every three to five years, growing much faster than the population. An estimated 2% of the world is now involved in movements to Jesus.

Prayer is Starting Movements Even in Some FPGs in India

Prayer for the peoples of India has risen since the Apostle Thomas arrived there in the first century. In 2018 a prayer focus was launched for the overlooked Frontier People Groups, particularly the 31 largest ones (over 10 million in size), half of which are in India (Go31.org). Strengthened by increasing global prayer, movements in India are growing despite political and religious opposition.

The “listening” movement is one of many movements God has raised up in India in response to prayer. It is reported to be spreading in households (oikos) among 300 people groups across 16 states (more than half) of India. Each oikos has said “yes” to Jesus and is following Jesus. And as they’re being discipled to Jesus, they’re told, “Freely you have received, so freely give.”

As they discuss Scripture, often daily, and move in obedience to Jesus, they’re out sharing. And if they’re Yadav, for example, they’re sharing with the people that they know best, primarily other Yadav. But the Spirit may also prompt them to share with an oikos in another people group.

Often when one oikos takes baptism their next-door neighbors or closest relatives are also ready to take baptism, because the first oikos taking baptism has been sharing with that other family all the Bible stories they’ve been learning.

In this one movement, three million people are now baptized, with tracked chains of 16, 17, and 20 oikos among a wide variety of people groups, each leading the next to follow Jesus. Among the Bania, only one family is known to be following Jesus so far. Pray for all that Jesus is eager to do in that people group. However there are many other large Frontier People Groups where movements are developing—including oikos among Brahmins, Other Backward Castes (OBCs), and Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes (SCSTs)—Thakors, Jats, Rajputs, and Valmikis. Among the Yadav people group in particular, there were 30,000 baptized a couple of years ago, and that continues growing.

50 Extraordinary Years: 1974-2024

Prior to 1974, workers overlooked the biblical emphasis on languages and ethne (people groups) and focused on political countries.

Then in 1974, Billy Graham gathered evangelists from around the world to discuss what it would take to spread the gospel to the whole world. Ralph Winter introduced people groups there—and in what later became the Perspectives course—and showed that if every believer were to win to Jesus all their friends, family, and neighbors in their own people group, 60% of the world would be left out. That is, 60% of the world lived in people groups needing specialized, cross-cultural pioneer workers.

By 2024 we celebrate amazing progress—today less than 25% of the world remains in people groups needing cross-cultural pioneer workers.

Take a moment to let this sink in...

In 1974 (nearly 2,000 years after Pentecost) only 40% of the world could come to Christ through normal, same-culture witness. Now, just 50 years later, 75% of the world can come to Jesus through same-culture witness.

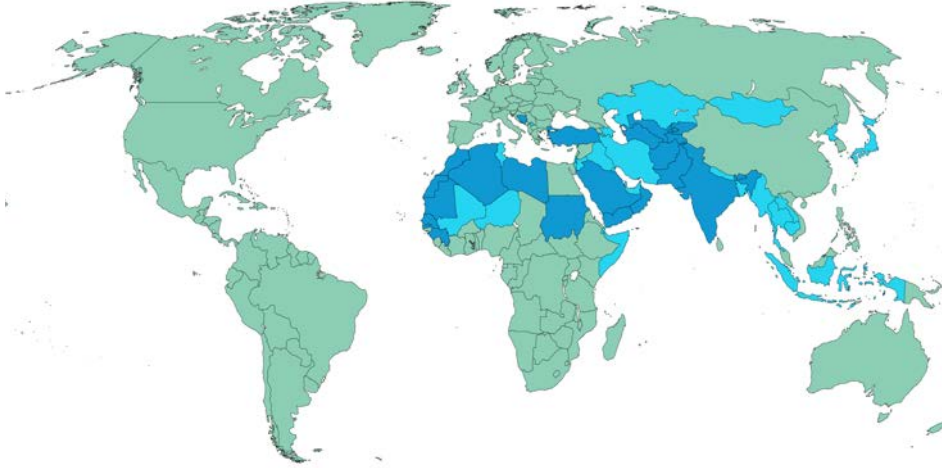

Praise God for this working of His Spirit, through the cross-cultural pioneer workers He sent out, in response to the prayers He prompted, in response to this return to the biblical emphasis on people groups (ethne in Greek).

In this booklet you will find visual representation of these major points:

- Assessing the need for pioneer workers.
- The remarkable progress of the gospel over the past fifty years.
- Which people groups most need pioneer workers.
- Where mission workers are mostly being sent.
- The strategic importance of the 300 mega-Frontier People Groups.

We are used to seeing the world in terms of geography. In the map above, large regions of Russia, Canada, and Greenland stand out even though very few people live there. Adjusting the area of each country to reflect its actual population highlights the hidden opportunity in the concentration of FPGs in South Asia.

Population of FPGs by Region

Adjusting the area of each region to the population of its Frontier People Groups makes the uneven distribution of FPGs even clearer. The South Asian FPG population is more than double the whole rest of the world combined!

The few FPGs in North America and Europe are primarily immigrants in “diaspora.” Just 2.5% of the global FPG population are in diaspora. Most of the Muslims in diaspora are in other Muslim countries. Very few Hindu FPGs are in diaspora (mostly in other S. Asian or African countries) and many South Asians in diaspora are not from FPGs.

Most immigrants in the United States, including almost all recent immigrants, are from “reached” people groups.

World Population With and Without Followers of Jesus

How our Generation Can Finish Starting in all People Groups.

In 1974, nearly 2,000 years after Pentecost:

- 🏠 1 in 20 households followed Jesus (globally).³
- 🏠 7 of the 20 households could see what it looks like to follow Jesus from others in their people group. They don't know Him yet, but their doors are open.
- 🏠 12 of the 20 households all needed pioneer workers to lead households to be the first in their own people group to follow Jesus and obey all He commanded. Their doors are closed to outside influences, behind the barrier between peoples that Jesus came to destroy (Eph 2:14).

Then in 1974 a new awareness of God's concern for every people group began accelerating pioneer work, with breakthroughs that continue building momentum toward leading the first households in every last people group to follow Jesus!

Now, as of 2024, with increasing prayer and pursuit of Acts-like movements:

- 🏠 1 in 8 households follow Jesus (globally).
- 🏠 5 of the 8 households can learn to follow Jesus within their own people group.
- 🏠 2 out of 8 households remain isolated in people groups with virtually no followers of Jesus. This 25% of the world still needs pioneer workers.

³ This page adapts JoshuaProject.net data to the biblical emphasis on households, in line with God's promise to bless all people groups.

THE GLOBAL STATE OF THE GOSPEL

Since 1974, a focus on God’s covenant to bless all people groups has led to the greatest advance of the gospel in all of history. In 1974 40% of the world lived in people groups which showed gospel progress. As of 2024, 75% live in such people groups!

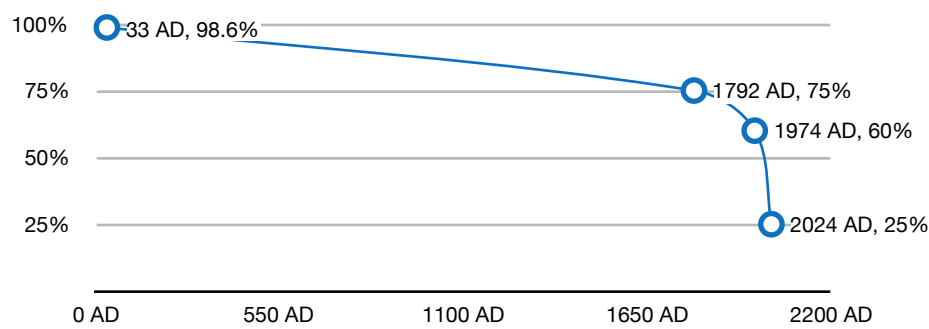

Percent of world population in people groups showing gospel progress.

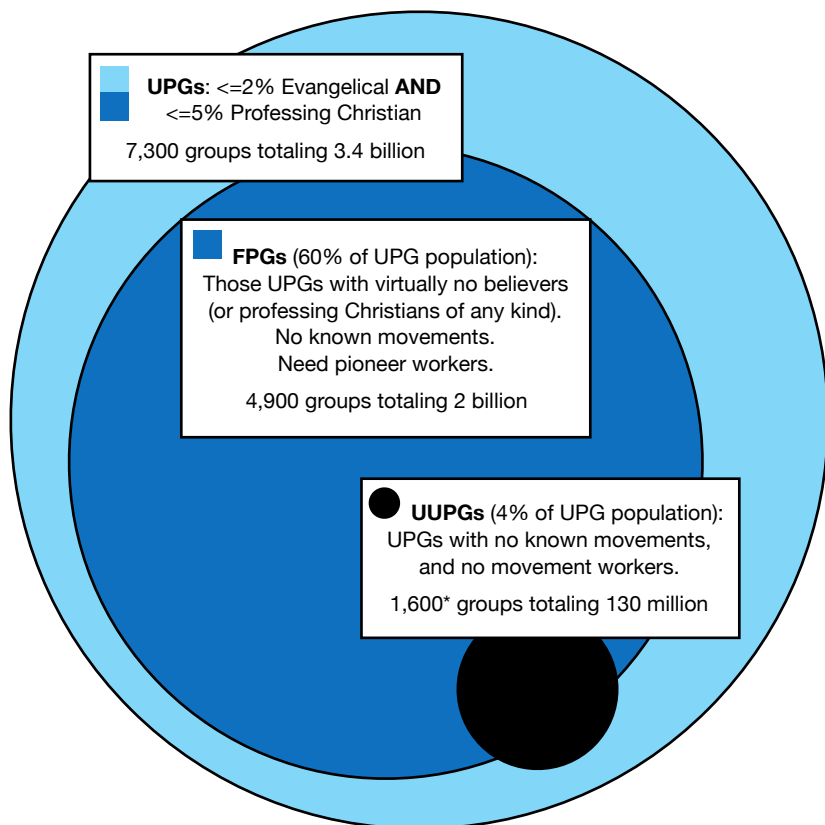

World population has doubled since 1974, yet believers have increased 5-fold while the population of people groups needing pioneer workers declined from 60% of the world to 25%.

Pioneer workers (like Paul in the New Testament) go to people groups where there is no gospel progress—to lead and disciple the first households there to follow Jesus and begin multiplying.

Classifying Unreached People Groups

UPGs: Unreached People Groups (40% of the world, 3.4 billion people) **

UPGs have “no indigenous community of believing Christians with adequate numbers and resources to evangelize their people group without outside assistance.”

These are approximated as “less than or equal to 2% Evangelical Christian and less than or equal to 5% professing Christians.”

FPGs: Frontier People Groups

(60% of UPGs, 25% of the world, 2bn)

The subset of UPGs that have no gospel progress—virtually no followers of Jesus and no known movements to Jesus, and still need pioneer cross-cultural workers (approximated as 0.1% or fewer professing Christians).

Classifying People Groups⁴

Where has the gospel already spread? Where hasn't it? Where are more workers needed? To find answers to these questions it helps to consider the world in categories of people groups (see opposite page):

Reached People Groups (60% of the world, 4.6 billion people) include:

- Followers of Jesus (with a living faith): 1 billion (13% of the world)
- Cultural/nominal Christians (needing renewal): 1.6bn (20%)

- UPGs with progress, but needing workers: 1.4 billion (15% of the world)
- Frontier People Groups with no progress: 2 billion (25% of the world)
- UUPGs (a small subset of FPGs with no known workers)

These various kinds of unreached people groups retain a strong sense of shared identity, and often resist outside influences or marriage outside their people.

⁴ For consistency, this material uses data and definitions from JoshuaProject.net, except as noted.

Where Would the Apostle Paul Go Today?

Nearly all believers are in the 75% of the world living in people groups where the initial pioneer work has been completed and there are growing communities of believers. Believers are increasing faster than the population these people groups. The other 25% of the world lives in Frontier People Groups, with virtually no followers of Jesus or movements to Jesus. All Unreached People Groups need more workers. However FPGs receive only 1% of the Christian workers sent internationally from all countries.

Progress and Workers Are Not Evenly Distributed

Some regions show more progress among Unreached People Groups than others. In the three regions listed below, for example, Indonesia shows significant progress while in South Asia few UPGs are showing progress:

- Indonesia: 55% of UPGs no longer need pioneer workers (85% by population).
- The Sahel (Sahara): 50% of UPGs are no longer FPGs (75% by population).
- South Asia: Only 15% of UPGs are no longer FPGs (20% by population).

The Great Progress of the Gospel

Some see NO progress of the gospel over the past 50 years?

- In 1974, one-third of the world identified as Christian.

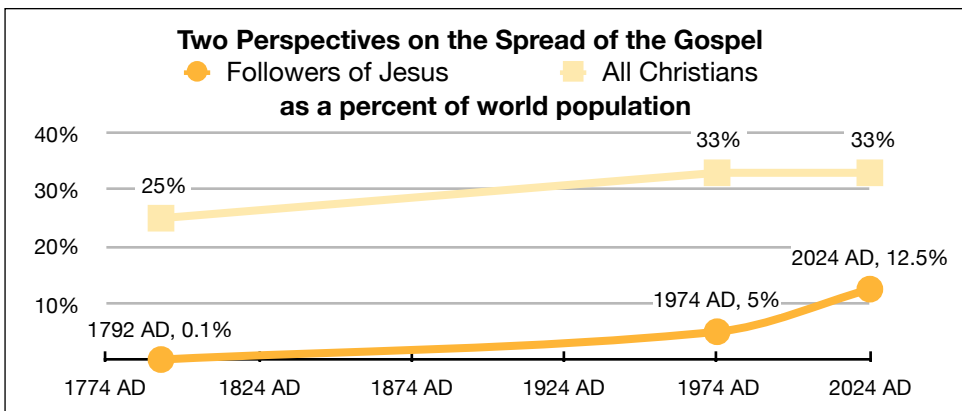

- Today, one-third of the world identifies as Christian.

Furthermore, the distribution of workers hasn't changed much:

- In 1974, most missionaries worked in partnership with existing churches—in people groups with established, growing church movements.
- Today, most workers still work in partnership with existing churches—in people groups with established, growing church movements.

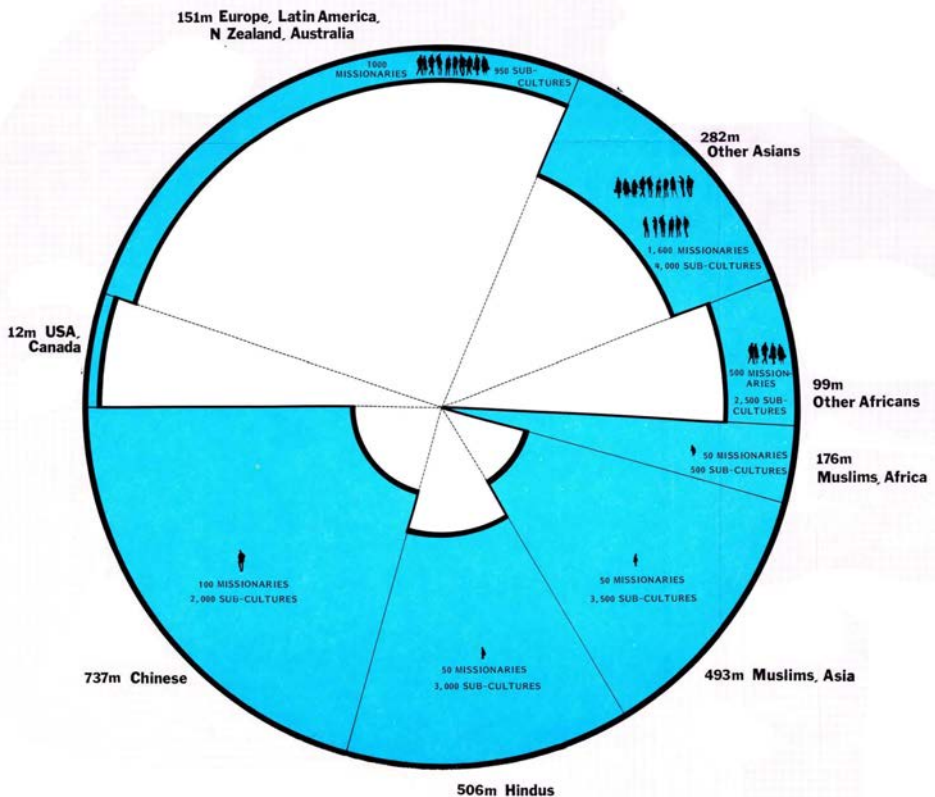

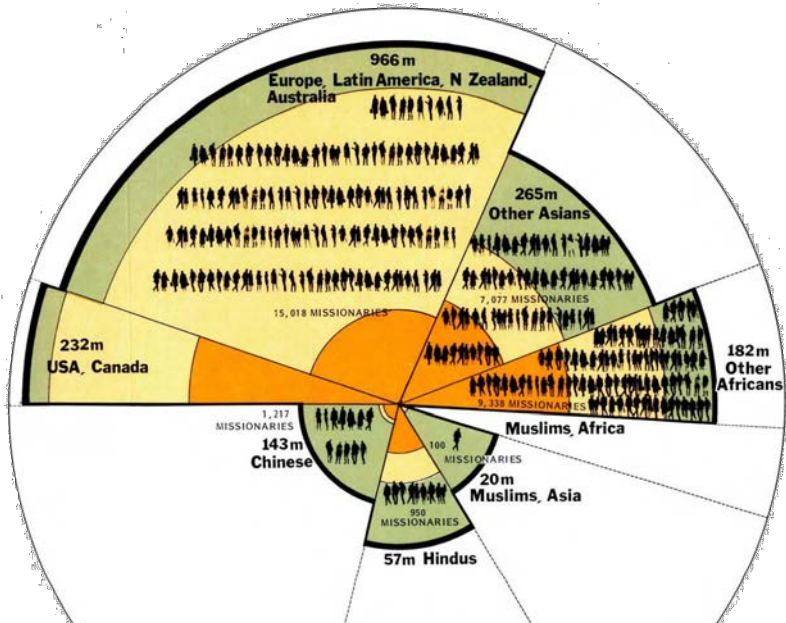

However 50 years ago, in 1974, Ralph Winter began awakening those interested in world evangelization to the centrality of God's covenant promise to bless all people groups. First at the original Lausanne Congress sponsored by Billy Graham, then through what became the global Perspectives course, Winter showed, 50 years:

- The centrality in Scripture of people groups,⁵ rather than political nations.
- That 60% of the world lived in people groups without movements to Jesus.
- That most workers were sent to people groups with existing movements.

⁵ People Groups (ethne in the New Testament and the Greek Old Testament/Septuagint) are the broadest network of households united by enduring loyalty to a shared heritage and identity.

Successful Pioneer Work Results in Partnership

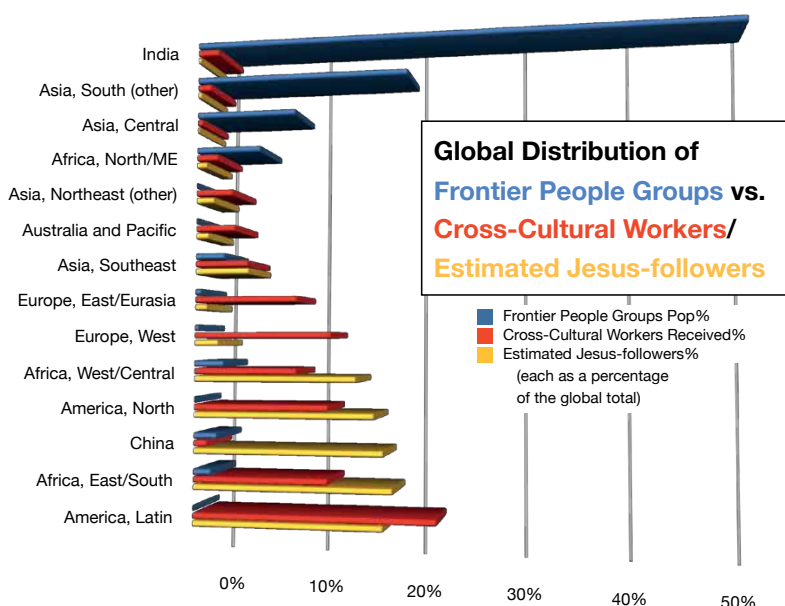

As pioneer work bears fruit, it generally transitions to partnering with the fruit of its labors—the resulting communities of new believers. This is natural and healthy, yet it shifts the focus of sending—from pioneer work to partnership.

Partnership is part of the abundant harvest that follows pioneer work. Fruit is more rapid, abundant and less challenging. Those who partner with local believers receive natural encouragement and support with language and cultural adjustments, as well as immediate fellowship.

Reports from ripe harvest fields draws more workers. And the needs of new believers stimulate prayer and attention from Christ's global body. Many sending-base churches—unaware of the remaining need for pioneer workers—require those they send to partner with local believers. This hinders workers from pioneer work in new fields.

These factors all favor Unreached People Groups where the gospel has taken root, and lead to neglect of the urgent opportunity for pioneer work among those people groups still with no community of believers. For clarity, researchers have recently identified the subset of UPGs still needing pioneer missionaries as Frontier People Groups.

Many partnership workers may not have the gift or calling for pioneer work, but they can play a strategic role in equipping apostolically-gifted local believers for cross-cultural pioneer work. All UPGs still need many more workers, yet the shortage of pioneer workers among FPGs is even more evident:

Regional totals, Frontier People Group populations and estimated Jesus-followers all from JoshuaProject.net (2019). 2015 Cross-Cultural Worker figures from: World Christian Database, Todd M. Johnson and Gina A. Zurlo, eds., (Leiden/Boston: Brill, accessed March 2019).

THE PROGRESS OF GOD'S PROMISE

The Holy Spirit empowered those first disciples to multiply rapidly, even amidst persecution—from household to household with no dedicated buildings for worship.

The cross-cultural pioneer work carried out by Philip, Peter and then Paul took the gospel to more and more ethnē. Some estimate that those first century believers increased at 20% per year!

Luke documented this first explosive movement to Jesus:

- “And the word of God continued to increase, and the number of the disciples multiplied greatly ...” (Acts 6:7).
- “So the church ... walking in the fear of the Lord and in the comfort of the Holy Spirit, multiplied” (Acts 9:31).
- “But the word of God increased and multiplied” (Acts 12:24).
- “So the churches ... increased in numbers daily” (Acts 16:5).
- “So the word of the Lord continued to increase and prevail mightily” (Acts 19:20).
- “[Paul continued] proclaiming the kingdom of God and teaching about the Lord Jesus Christ ... without hindrance” (Acts 28:30–31).

By 1800, world population had only tripled and the number of people needing pioneer cross-cultural work had doubled. However the gospel had spread to countries with one-quarter of the world, and believers had multiplied 1,000-fold through various “awakenings.” But this took more than 17 centuries.

Then God stirred a young cobbler named William Carey to publish a country by country assessment of the world’s spiritual state, urging the formation of small teams committed to tackling specific parts of the Great Commission.⁶

Many prayerfully embraced this new awareness, and over the next 150 years churches were established in nearly every country.

Yet they overlooked a key aspect of God’s purpose...

- Coastlands—The awareness and new structures prompted by Carey's Enquiry stirred an era of focus on the coastlands of the great continents. There was no limit to the work there, yet what about the masses in the interiors of these continents?

- Interiors—Around 1850 God burdened the young Hudson Taylor with the spiritual needs of China—then the most populated country on earth. Taylor published an assessment of the needs of that great land, and many prayerfully embraced this new awareness, sending workers for an era of focus on the interiors of the great continents.

Taylor, like all pioneer workers, shared the Apostle Paul's great ambition—"to preach the gospel where Christ was not known, so that I would not be building on someone else's foundation" (Rom 15:20). Taylor and his mission birthed the largest movement to Jesus in history, still growing among the Han Chinese today.⁷

By the 1930's, the agencies birthed in these two eras of rapid advance were rejoicing that the church was now present in nearly every country on earth. There was even talk of bringing missionaries home and letting the local churches finish evangelizing their own countries.

Yet God wasn't finished ...

- Peoples—Cameron Townsend and Donald McGavran noticed a key aspect of God's purpose that had been mostly overlooked: God's plan isn't simply to establish a presence in every political country; His purpose and promise is to disciple and bless every ethne.

This insight launched the current era of unprecedented advance.

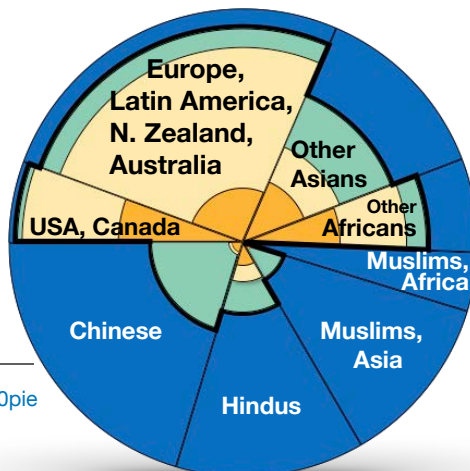

Ralph Winter applied this biblical emphasis on ethne to develop a new analysis of the remaining task—60% of the world lived in ethne still needing pioneer workers, yet most missionaries were working in ethne where the gospel had already taken root, in partnership with believers.⁸

In 1974, Winter presented his analysis in the precursor to the current Perspectives course, and at the first Lausanne congress.

The World in 1974: 4 Billion People

- 0.2bn Followers of Jesus
- 1bn Other professing Christians
- 0.4bn Other lost, in ethne with communities of believers
- 2.4 Billion in ethne needing pioneer workers

⁸ JoshuaProject.net/1980pie

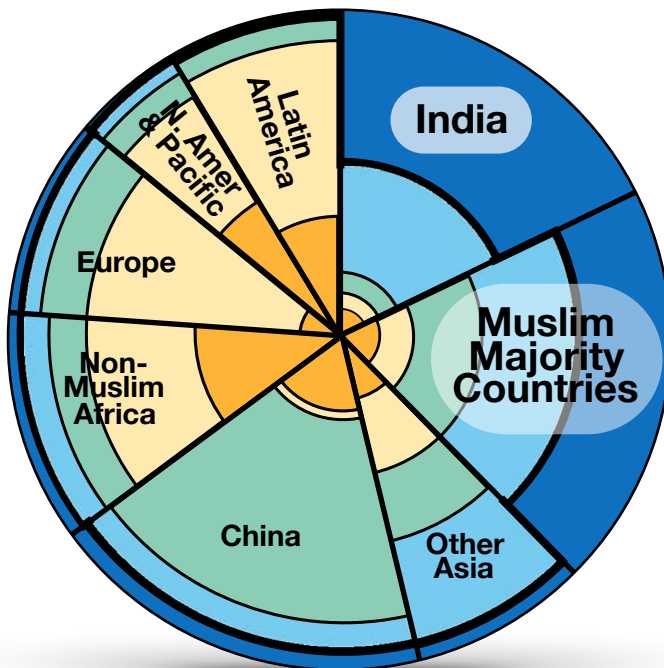

The Great Leap Forward

As Winter later observed, most individuals are not truly independent thinkers. One of Satan's primary influences over individuals and their households is through the perceptions and expectations of their people group. Each people group perceives Jesus as only for other, "Christian" peoples until they see a community of their own people identifying with Jesus—however imperfectly. As Paul modeled in Acts, the first community to identify with Jesus in each people group is the foundation for all of God's further blessings among that people group.

Many began calling attention to the need for more pioneer workers among overlooked people groups. Soon, many believers around the world prayerfully embraced this new awareness—in both historic sending bases and recent mission fields. God stirred widespread prayer adoption of Unreached People Groups, then responded by thrusting out new waves of pioneer workers. And the Holy Spirit did abundantly more than most could imagine—birthing thousands of Acts-like movements to Jesus, in many people groups worldwide.

The World in 2024: 8 Billion People

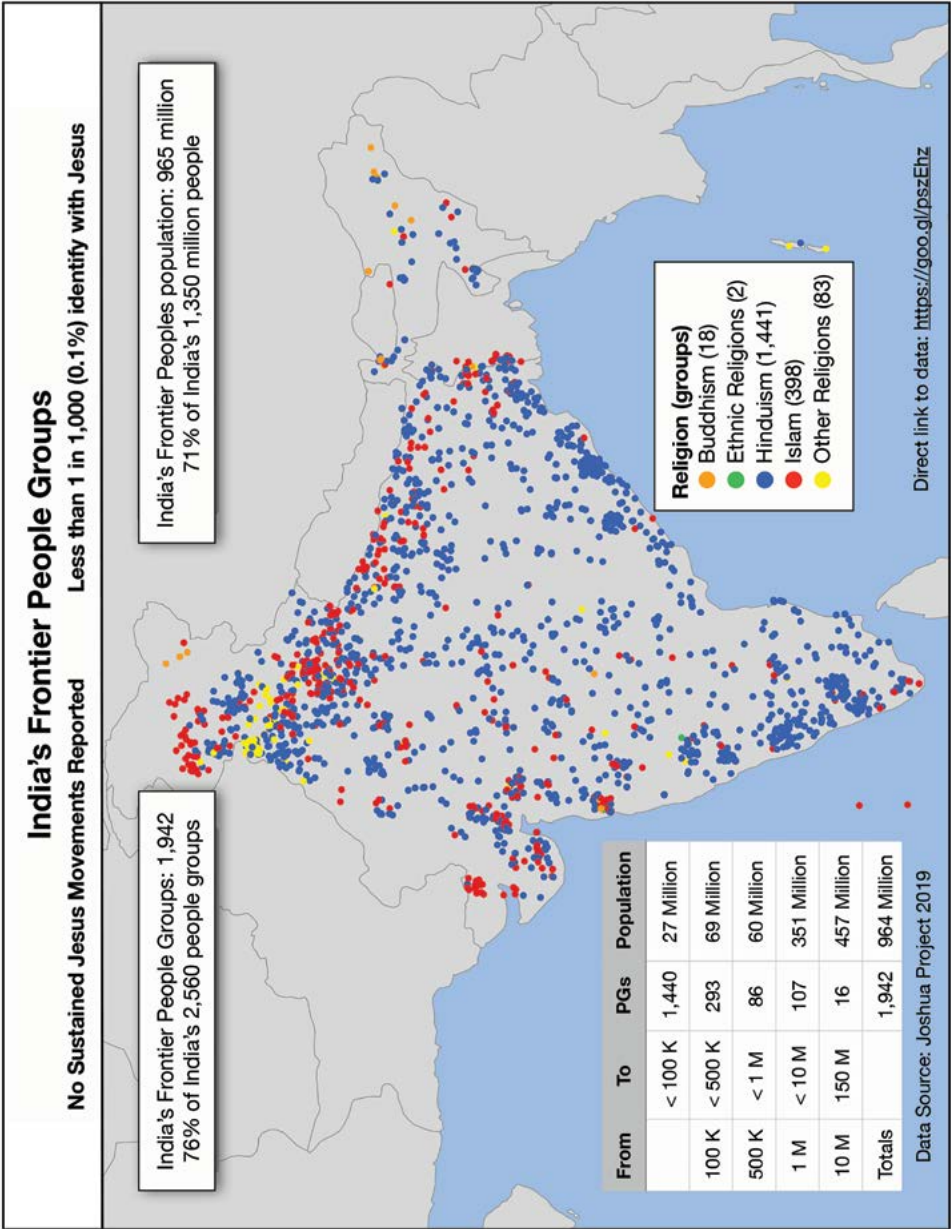

- 1bn Followers of Jesus
- 1.6bn Other Professing Christians
- 3.4bn Other lost, in ethne with communities that identify with Jesus
- 2.0bn in Frontier ethne, still needing pioneer teams

Only 1 in 100 of these missionaries is estimated to actually work among Frontier People Groups, and even fewer are pursuing Jesus movements to multiply God's blessing.

Wm Carey's Introduction (Shorter and Modern)

For there is no difference between the Jew and the Greek: for the same Lord over all is rich unto all that call upon him. For whosoever shall call upon the name of the Lord shall be saved. How then shall they call on him in whom they have not believed? And how shall they believe in him of whom they have not heard? And how shall they hear without a preacher? And how shall they preach, except they be sent? —Romans 10:12-15

Jesus taught us to pray to our Father: Your kingdom come, Your will be done on earth. We show our deep desire for all the families of the earth to experience His promised blessing by using every means possible to disciple all people groups.

To complete our commission we must study where the gospel has spread, and where it hasn't. Ultimately we have to confirm that all are offered God's grace by demonstrating the Spirit of Love flowing from God Himself, and that they too can be adopted into His family through Jesus Christ.

Since the Fall, the children of men have suffered the influence of evil, though it changes its appearance into thousands of forms in history and places. It constantly opposes the will and the designs of God. Through the ages, all peoples have been overrun by contempt for or ignorance of God, serving the created not the creator, through idolatries of gods and beasts, or through "enlightened" idolatries of the mind, or lustful idolatries of the body (Romans 1). Yet we know God has promised to defeat the power of the devil, destroying his works, and to extend His blessing and kingdom to all of earth's peoples (ethne).

For this very purpose the Messiah came, died and rose again, that all who believed might be justified through Him (Gal.3:8, Rom. 3:26) and reconciled to their heavenly Father. Many servants of Jesus have laid down their lives in the past 2000 years to bring God's blessing to distant peoples. Today disciples from former dark places are eager to dedicate their lives to help fulfill God's promise, but they don't know who still has not heard the message.

To that end, we encourage all disciples everywhere to:

- 1) See God still calling us to be his messengers of His promised blessing,
- 2) Praise Him for all those in each generation who, in spite of fierce opposition, brought Jesus and the living Word to distant people groups,
- 3) Understand the present state of the world, especially those places and peoples where the gospel has not yet taken root,
- 4) Consider strategic ways to move forward, and
- 5) Gladly give their own lives for this great calling.

How the Need for Pioneer Workers Is Assessed

Great work of all kinds is being done globally in pursuit of our commission to disciple all nations (Mt 28:16-20). And much more work of all kinds is needed. This booklet focuses on the one finishable task in that commission—the pioneer work of pursuing God for a movement within each people group, starting with the first believing households to remain within that people group. To clarify where pioneer workers are still needed, we start by considering the world in two broad categories of people groups:

1. Reached People Groups: 60% of the world, 4.6 billion people blended together:
 - Followers of Jesus (with a living faith): 1 Billion (13% of the world)
 - Cultural/nominal Christians (needing renewal): 1.6bn (20%)
 - Non-believers in these same groups (needing witness): 2bn (27%)
2. Unreached People Groups (UPGs):⁹ 40% of the world, 3.4 billion people with few believers or other professing Christians. UPGs can be further classified by considering the absence of believers/movements (Frontier People Groups or FPGs), and absence of workers (Unengaged UPGs, or UUPGs).

The need for pioneer work then becomes clear with these additional insights:

- What the Bible refers to as “nations” are not the countries of our day.
The New Testament Greek word ethne,¹⁰ often translated in English as “nations,” refers to “people groups” united by loyalty to a shared heritage and identity. Historically people groups maintain their identity through resistance to outside influences and a high commitment to intermarriage, shared traditions, and conformity with other expectations of their people group.¹¹
- Pioneer work lays the foundation for all further discipleship.
Few households can even conceive of following Jesus together until they see other households in their people group doing so. The finishable first step toward reaching every people group is discipling the first households to follow Jesus together in a movement to Jesus, while remaining one with their people.
- The remaining need for pioneer work is widely overlooked.
Most believers live in countries and people groups with lots of other believers, where households can choose to follow Jesus without strong resistance from their people group. Thus most of us find it hard to conceive of the social pressure FPG households experience against following Jesus, and their need for pioneer workers. Believers in other people groups often share their needs, but FPGs are unlikely to ask believers for help. Sending church policies often require those they support to partner with local believers (which excludes FPGs). Thus workers tend to go where the pioneer work has already been done—where believers are already present to provide immediate fellowship, and to assist new workers with language, logistics, etc.

¹⁰ Ethne appears 160 times in the NT, and nearly 700 times in the LXX (Septuagint) the Greek translation of the Old Testament which preceded the writing of the New Testament.

¹¹ Only after significant numbers within a people group find their identity in Christ do that people group's expectations relax—opening the door for multi-ethnic churches and marriages.

1974–2024: THE ASTONISHING HALF-CENTURY

(ARE WE ON THE BRINK OF COMPLETING OUR COMMISSION?)

In people groups where there are faithful disciples, they multiply—like yeast in dough—until they reach a saturation point and plateau or start declining.

How then have followers of Jesus managed to multiplying 5-fold globally in the last 50 years, with no sign of slowing down?

50 years ago, a dramatic shift of perspective began rapidly increasing the number of people groups among which the gospel has started to spread. Over these past 50 years the population of all reached people groups (where disciples are multiplying) has increased nearly 4-fold!

However 25% of the world still lives in people groups where followers of Jesus are not yet multiplying. And only 1% of international workers go to these Frontier People groups.

After His resurrection, Jesus commissioned us—His disciples—to pursue a simple two-step process in every people group:

1. Pioneer: Go, lead the first households to become His disciples.
2. Partner: Train and equip those disciples to obey all that He commanded (including this 2-step process).

At Pentecost, Jesus empowered His disciples to pursue this commission, and so fulfill our Father's promise through Jesus. This is our "Commander's Intent": "All people groups will be blessed [through you]" (Gen 12:3, 18:18, 22:18, Acts 3:25, Gal 3:8, Heb 6:17, Rom 11:25, etc.).

With Every New Generation:

- We followers of Jesus are becoming more numerous and more active.
- The number of groups waiting for pioneer work is declining more rapidly.

In just the last 50 Years, 1974–2024, world population doubled. Yet...

- Followers of Jesus multiplied 5-fold—to 1 out of 8 people worldwide.
- For the very first time the global population needing pioneer work declined.
- The portion of the world needing pioneer work dropped by 60%.
- The estimated number of people groups needing pioneer work dropped 70%.

Some generation will finish the remaining pioneer work.

Why Not Us?

Will our Generation Finish the Pioneer Task?

Over the past 50 years, from 1974 to 2024:

- Same-culture gospel access nearly doubled.

In 1974, only 40% of the world lived in people groups where more than 1 in 1,000 (0.1%) were followers of Jesus.

In 2024, 75% of humankind lives in people groups where more than 0.1% of households are followers of Jesus.

- FPGs (as a % of the world) decreased more than 50%.

In 1974, 60% of the world lived in people groups with virtually no followers of Jesus or movements to Jesus, needing pioneer workers.

In 2024, only 25% of the world live in Frontier People Groups.

- Followers of Jesus increased globally by 400%.

Evangelicals, Charismatics and Pentecostals consistently grow faster than the population, like compounding interest.

In 1974, an estimated 200 million followers of Jesus (one in 20 people globally) lived mostly in Europe and North America.

In 2024, there are an estimated one billion followers of Jesus (one in 8 globally).

Today:

- The remaining FPGs need informed prayer.
- Nearly all international workers (99%) go to people groups where the foundational pioneer work has already been completed.
- New clarity about the least reached of Unreached People Groups.

What drove

Three key insights were introduced in 1974—at the first Lausanne Congress—and spread widely through the Perspectives course:

The centrality in God's global purpose of blessing all people groups (ethne).

Most mission workers are sent among people groups that already have indigenous communities of believer and growing church movements.

The need for specialized pioneer workers among 60% of the world, living then in people groups with virtually no followers of Jesus or movements to Jesus.

These insights stirred widespread prayer and sending of workers to . contributed to reducing the percentage of the world without same-culture access to the gospel, from 60% in 1974 to 25% in 2024:

With united prayer, collaboration, new technology and insights gained from the past 50 years, getting started among the remaining 25% could occur even much more than the 35% progress of the past 50 years. Yet lack of clarity

Since 1974 God has also used the Perspectives course, started that same year, as a primary vehicle for multiplying awareness of these key insights.

Much of the global increase in followers of Jesus is geographically, culturally and linguistically close to Frontier People Groups.

, reducing the global need for pioneer workers from 60% in 1974 to 25% in 2024

just 50 years that 60% of the world has been reduced to 25%, while believers have increased by 400%! And most (80% of the 25%, or 20% of the world) are in just 300 large mega-Frontier People Groups.

We are working to introduce this new awareness to the global church to inspire a new global, collaborative effort to finish starting pioneer work in every remaining Frontier People Group.

Some today see no progress of the gospel over the past 50 years:

In 1974, one-third of the world identified as Christian.

Today, one-third of the world identifies as Christian.

In 1974 most missionaries worked in people groups where there were already

What data is this understanding of FPGs based on?

For the past 30 years, Joshua Project (JoshuaProject.net) has collaborated with other Evangelical ministries to clarify which people groups most need outside assistance for the global church is to faithfully pursue our commission to disciple all people groups.

Joshua Project data incorporates input from a variety of sources, some with slightly different focuses, including:

- Operation World (a country-based prayer guide): OperationWorld.org
- The Ethnologue (a catalogue of people groups and their languages developed connected to Wycliffe Bible Translators): sil.org/about/endangered-languages/languages-of-the-world
- The Southern Baptist database of people groups (which discounts the presence of historic Christian traditions): PeopleGroups.org
- The World Christian Encyclopedia and Center for the Study of Global Christianity: GordonConwell.edu/center-for-global-christianity
- Etnopedia, which encourages crowd-sourced prayer profiles for the world's people groups: Etnopedia.org

Joshua Project also incorporates information and feedback from:

- Local researchers in many parts of the world.
- 400,000 visitors each month.

How accurate is this data?

Over the past 50 years, increasing global awareness of and prayer for Unreached People Groups has created a feedback loop that is accelerating progress at a rate that is difficult to track accurately as the Holy Spirit responds to these prayers.

Joshua Project takes a conservative approach to reporting that is more likely to under-represent than to exaggerate the presence of Evangelicals and other Christian adherents in specific people groups.

Further research is needed on ministry strategies for specific people groups.

Joshua Project may be slightly outdated, however it provides a fairly accurate overall picture of the global progress of the gospel by people group.

This draft booklet presents graphics to help followers of Jesus see and share:

- God's global plan to bless all of earth's families.
- The astonishing progress of the past 50 years.
- The remaining need for pioneer work in 25% of the world.
- The strategic significance of the 300 mega-Frontier People Groups.

This booklet is the collaborative effort of many who have given our lives to pursuing Jesus for the completion of pioneer work, toward the fulfillment of God's promise to bless all the family-lines of earth.

You are welcome to share and adapt this material to fuel:

1. Awareness and understanding of the extraordinary progress in pioneer work over the last 50 years, and the remaining need for pioneer workers.
2. United prayer to the Lord of the harvest, for workers to be thrust out where the harvest is plentiful but the workers are few (Mt 9:38, Lk 10:2).
3. Collaborative obedience among Christ's global body toward completing pioneer work among all remaining FPGs for the fulfillment of God's purpose to bless all of earth's people groups (Gen 22:18).
